

Harry Gosling Weekly News

Friday 26th April 2024

This week, was the annual event of Earth Day - a worldwide recognition of the importance of looking after our planet. We were so pleased when we were able to host some members of the BBC who came into school to meet some of our children and record their voices. It was of course secret until the episode was published on BBC iPlayer on Monday! We are so pleased that some of our children got to narrate over an episode of Planet Earth. We are so proud that the voices of our children at Harry Gosling are heard. I hope that all children will recognise just how important they and their voices are. It was also wonderful to see so many parents attend the Year 6 SATS meeting. The year 6 team are working so hard and we are excited to see what our children will achieve after all their hard work. A final push - they are very nearly there! Wishing you all a wonderful weekend and hoping that you all get to spend more time outside as the weather hopefully improves!

Keeping safe

A reminder to discuss with your children, the importance of keeping safe whilst outside of school. As the weather gets warmer, lots more children will be spending time outside of school by themselves or with a friend either in the local area, the local park, or even going to the shops with their friends. Please do remind your children that they must only talk to trusted adults and if they ever feel unsafe or worried that they are always encouraged to speak to you, their parents, or any adult at the school. We just want all of our children to be happy and safe!
